Lloyd Patterson begins Venice mayor duties

Lloyd H. Patterson, alderman of the First Ward in Venice since 1967, was elected unanimously by the Venice City Council Thursday night as "temporary mayor" of Venice.

Patterson, 54, was chosen as mayor pro-tem because of the absence of Mayor John E. Lee, Venice mayor for the past 17 years who was stricken by a cerebral hemorrhage Nov. 19, and, at the time of Thursday night's council session, was a patient at Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Dr. Lee, who had been in a coma and in extremely critical condition since the time he was stricken, died early Friday afternoon, approximately 16 hours after the council acted.

Dr. Lee's death is expected to require a special election of a mayor since there is more than three years of his term remaining. Dr. Lee was elected to his fifth consecutive term as mayor of Venice last April.

Patterson will serve as mayor pending an election call and special election arrangements, a period estimated at 60 to 90 days.

The council named Patterson to the mayor's office in an ordinance which said that "an emergency exists within the city of Venice because of the absence of the mayor (Dr. Lee)."

The ordinance provided that Patterson remain in an ordinance which said that "an emergency exists within the city of Venice because of the absence of the mayor (Dr. Lee)."

Patterson's name was placed in nomination by Alderman Oscar King and was given a second by Alderman John Ervin. Alderman Harry Buentz served as temporary chairman of the council session pending adoption of the appointment ordinance.

Patterson, a resident of Venice 48 years, was elected as alderman of Venice in 1967 and was re-elected to his second four-year term in April 1971. He still has two years of his aldermanic term remaining.

He is employed as a service maintenance welder at Laclede Steel Co. in Madison and previously was employed at Nesco for two years. He was educated in Granite City schools, Washington University and Southern Illinois University.

He is a member of the First Methodist Church in Venice. He is a lay leader and a member and past president of the Good Shepherd Fellowship.

Patterson also is a member of the United Steelworkers of America, Local 1785, the Venice City Organization, Venice-Madison American Legion Post 507, Lions Club, Venice Homecoming and Memorial Association and is a vice-president of the Laclede-Madison Credit Union.

At one point it had been considered possible that Dr. Lee would be the choice for mayor if the Quad-Cities had been merged into a single city. Which he did not push directly for the proposal, he was known to believe that this community could obtain stronger voice in its future if consolidated.

Among those voicing shock at Dr. Lee's death was Mayor Sasak, who praised him as a skilled administrator and as a force for governmental efficiency and integrity.

Mayor Paul Schuler of Granite City described Mayor Lee as a "giant of man." Appellate Clerk Simmons regarded Dr. Lee as "my best friend."

City Clerk Ebersold cited the Lee administration's accomplishments, which included construction of street department headquarters on Klein Street and installation of a Broadway traffic underpass.

New recreation and fire station facilities were being planned. Dr. Lee was elected to his fifth consecutive four-year term as mayor of Venice last April, and was serving his 17th year in that office. For many years he had been among the leaders of the Venice-Madison political organization.

He maintained a dental office at 401 a Madison Ave., Madison, and was president of the First National Bank in Madison, located at Sixth Street and Madison Avenue.

Born in Venice, he was a lifelong local resident. He attended St. Mark's School of Dental Surgery, St. Louis University and its Dental School, receiving the degree of bachelor of science and doctor of dental surgery.

He was a member of St. Mark's Catholic Church, the St. Mark's Men's Organization and the Knights of Columbus.

His affiliations included the American Legion, American Dental Association, Madison County and Tri-City Dental Societies, Venice Lions Club, Venice Crippled Children's Association, Venice Homecoming Association and the City Organization. Lottery is voted

A state lottery has become a reality in Illinois.

The Senate voted 32-22 Thursday night, and the House voted 91-68 Saturday.

Gov. Daniel Walker has urged passage of a lottery, but is displeased with the July 1, 1974, effective date, saying, "An immediate effective date is needed to maintain the state's sound fiscal condition."

Immediate implementation would have required 36 Senate votes and 107 House votes.

The governor favored the lottery as a way to help replace $80 million taken from the general revenue fund to aid the city regional mass transit.

Sponsor was Sen. Edward T. Scholl (R, Chicago). He said the lottery may raise $60 million a year.

Opponents included Sen. Hudson Sours (R, Peoria), who said a lottery "springs a leak in the moral character of people. Who wants this but oafs, inchores, loafers and crumbums."

Rep. Roscoe Cunningham (R, Lawrenceville) voiced fear that the lottery would become the "Nevada of the Midwest."

"Eight states at present have lotteries. The plan approved during the weekend differs from an original Illinois lottery proposal under which proceeds would have been used for education and mental health."

Assessment-cost squeeze basis for school election

Voters of Venice School District 3 will go to the polls again Friday to ballot on an educational fund tax rate increase that school officials say is necessary if the district is to avert financial bankruptcy.

School district officials are seeking approval of a proposed increase of 80 cents per $100 assessed valuation in the educational fund which now has a rate limited at $2.05. It will be the second such election in the past six months. Last June 30 the voters rejected by a substantial majority—but in a light vote—a proposition calling for a rate boost of $1.20, which would have increased the educational fund rate to a maximum of $3.25.

Voters will ballot Friday between noon and 7 p.m. at two polling places: Registered voters, 18 years and older, who have resided in the school district for at least 28 days, will vote at the Venice Recreation Center, 305 Broadway, if their residence is within the Venice City limits.

Those living outside the Venice corporate boundaries will vote at the Eagle Park Improvement Association building, 100 Hill St., Eagle Park Acres.

School officials say that unless the rate boost is approved, the school district will face a critical financial shortage by the end of the current 1973-74 school year. While an alternative to a rejection of the rate increase has been advanced, members of the board of education have indicated merger with another school district might be the only way out of the financial dilemma.

According to school authorities, the problem results from a year-to-year decline in the district's property assessed valuation, coupled with increased operational costs.

During the past ten years, the district's property valuation has dropped from $39,591,595 in 1962 to $32,671,521 for the 1973 tax year, the last assessment year for which exact valuation figures are available. This was an average annual reduction of $69,000 over the ten-year period.

The present maximum educational fund tax rate of $2.05, applied to the present valuation, will provide only $666,931 in tax revenue, compared with $730,376 produced by the same tax rate in 1969 when the assessment stood at $39,096,173.

The office of School Superintendent John Pier noted this week that the district is committed to an expenditure of $800,000 in salaries in the educational fund during the current school year, and that other projected educational fund expenditures amount to $1,563,831 for total anticipated costs of $964,921.

The office of School Superintendent John Pier noted this week that the district is committed to an expenditure of $800,000 in salaries in the educational fund during the current school year, and that other projected educational fund expenditures amount to $1,563,831 for total anticipated costs of $964,921.

Anticipated tax revenue of $666,931 under the present tax rate and other educational fund revenue from state and federal sources should give the district approximately $566,931 revenue for the 1973-74 school year, Pier's office said.

The district will have to pay out $260,000 of this total to retire outstanding tax anticipation warrants, however, leaving the district $596,931 to meet educational fund costs.

On this basis, the district would need to borrow $367,990 to meet educational fund cost, Pier's office explained.

The Venice School District encountered similar problems nearly six years ago. Confronted at that time with a $400,000 deficit, the district held a referendum on a proposed 40-cent increase in the educational fund. The proposition carried, raising the educational rate to its present $2.05.

County ballot attracts money

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

Primary election battles for the Democratic nominations to all four Madison County offices will open to election next year when developing today as candidates scrambled for endorsements by the Madison County Democratic Central Committee.

With the filing period only a week away, four potential candidates already are reported in the field for the Democratic nomination as sheriff, while three others are reported circulating petitions in a bid for the office of county clerk.

There are at least three candidates for the office of superintendent of the educational service region and two for county treasurer, but there was speculation among political observers that some of these candidates may pull out of the campaign after the county central committee makes known the candidates who will receive organization support.

A lively race for the state representative posts in the 50th legislative district has been developing during the past two weeks, spurred by the announcement of State Rep. Leland J. Kennedy (D-Alton) as the primary legislator of this area, that he will not seek re-election.

The filing period will open at the office of County Clerk Eulalia Holtz at the courthouse in Edwardsville next Monday, Dec. 10, and will continue through Dec. 17. Candidates who file then will have until noon on Saturday, Dec. 22, to withdraw from the primary election if they decide to do so.

The primary elections will be held March 19 and office holders will be chosen in a runoff election between Democratic and Republican nominees on Nov. 5. Terms of incumbent office holders will expire the first Monday in December 1974.

Members of the screening committee of the Democratic Central Committee were to begin a series of meetings today to select a slate of candidates to which the committee will give its backing in the primary.

Among those who have obtained petition forms in the Democratic primary for sheriff are William Wardfield, former Granite City superintendent of streets, and incumbent Sheriff John Maerz of Madison.

Two others circulating petitions in the sheriff's race are William R. Kirkpatrick of Bethalto, and William Siglar of East Alton.

In addition to a sheriff's candidate to be nominated in the primary election by Democrats and Republicans, the voters also will nominate candidates as the superintendent of the educational service region, county clerk, and county treasurer.

Voters also will ballot in the primary on the nomination of a U. S. Senator and a state senator. All 177 state representatives must run, and state senators will be elected in only some of the districts. There will be no state senator elected next year in the 56th legislative district which includes the Quad-Cities area.

Adding incentive to the Democratic contests which appeared certain today are the announcement by Miss Holtz that she will retire next year, and the resignation of Wilbur Trimpe as superintendent of the service region to accept the post as president of the Lewis and Clark Junior College, a post in which he assumed his duties last week.

This assures two new faces among office holders elected next year.

Miss Holtz has announced she will support Miss Evelyn Bowles, Edwardsville, as her successor. Miss Bowles has served as Miss Holtz's chief deputy for many years.

While Miss Bowles has circulated petitions to file as a Democratic candidate for the clerk's post, two other candidates also are in the race. They include Von Dee Cruse of Granite City, now Granite City Township assessor, and Ronald Goodman, a resident of Godfrey.

Three candidates circulating petitions for the Democratic nomination as superintendent of the educational service region are Harold Briggs, for many years principal at Meigs, Trimpie, Vasil Efthimoff, administrative assistant-pupil personnel of the Granite City School District, and Vernon Fletcher, a Collinsville coach.

George Musso, incumbent county treasurer, will seek re-election, but Michael Henkhaus of Mitchell, a deputy circuit clerk in the probate division, has announced he will oppose Musso for the post in the Democratic primary. Both Musso and Henkhaus are circulating petitions.

Madison County voters also will ballot in the primary election on two judges of the Fifth District Appellate Court, one to replace Joseph Goldenbergh of East St. Louis, and one to replace Robert H. Alphin, director of the Department of Revenue, announced Friday.

He said 18,000 letters mailed Friday to persons who filed a federal return but no state tax return could net as much as $8.2 million in taxes owed, and additional amounts in interest and penalties.

Alphin said, "We have just completed a computer comparison of 1971 federal and state filing tax data."

"The comparison, which is authorized by federal law, identifies 130,000 personal income tax discrepancies where taxpayers either failed to file or filed erroneous 1971 returns with the state."

"When I first came to Illinois, Gov. Dan Walker instructed me to look for tax problems because the department had not acted in the past."

During his election campaign last year, Walker raised the issues of the Department of Revenue failing to pursue those who do not file income tax returns and failing to compare state and federal returns for discrepancies.

Federal auto use cut

The General Services Administration acted Friday to reduce the use of government vehicles by 15 per cent in light of the energy crisis facing the nation.

Calling for government-wide cooperation, Arthur F. Sampson, administrator of GSA, announced a new temporary Federal Property Management regulation that requires agencies using the 68,000 GSA motor pool vehicles to either meet the 15 per cent reduction or face a cutback in the number of vehicles they can use.

Sampson, in making the announcement, said, "It is the responsibility of the federal community to set the example for the nation in times of crisis. We can't expect the American people to experience the inconvenience associated with energy conservation unless we show them that we are doing our part and are getting results."

The regulation calls for all executive agencies participating in the motor pool system to reduce by 15 per cent the number of miles operated by its motor vehicles and to achieve a corresponding reduction in fuel consumption. Where agencies fail to achieve this objective, vehicles will be removed from service by renting, leasing, or authorizing the use of privately owned vehicles for government business.

Sampson cautioned that "the 68,000 vehicles GSA fleet represents only a portion of the nearly half-million vehicles in use in the federal government." He urged other agencies to control the use of their permanently assigned vehicles. "If other agencies immediately institute similar regulations, fuel savings over the next year will be dramatic," Sampson said.

The reduction in use, combined with a 50 miles per hour speed limit set previously for all government vehicles, is expected to save 9.6 million gallons of fuel over the next year.

GSA has asked for bids for more than 5,000 compact sedans for use in its motor pool. They are to replace larger vehicles now operating in the motor pool, the use of the compacts is due in mid-February.

Confectionery robbed

An armed robber stole about $50 cash from the Ridgeland Confectionery, 2500 Nameoki Road, at 8:25 p.m. yesterday. Shots were fired as the store owner tried unsuccessfully to stop the robber and an accomplice.

Hilfred Schaeble, an employee, said two men entered the store at the same time by separate doors and one picked up several small items and came to the checkout counter.

While she was bagging the items, the man at the counter displayed a pistol and placed it on her side. She said she backed up and opened the cash register and the man reached in and took the $50 in cash.

The other man remained by the front door throughout the robbery. The men then left by separate doors. As they left, the owner, Verl Pichford, entered and the clerk informed him, "We were just robbed."

Pichford got a gun from behind the counter, went to the front door and fired four shots at the fleeing men who ran into Kirkpatrick Homes.

The robber was described as about 5 foot, 5 inches tall, with brown curly, long hair and a mustache and wearing a tan plaid jacket.

His accomplice was dark complexioned and about 1 foot 6 inches tall, wearing a black jacket and stocking cap, according to the clerk.

the United Fund and the Boy Scouts Council.

Lee, mayor of Venice, Dr. Lee guided the city's fiscal policies in a pattern that kept the city "in the black" financially while at the same time permitting many municipal improvements.

He served in the Army in World War II, attaining the rank of captain.

Contributions have been made in his honor to the Venice Crippled Children's (organization) and to the Dr. John E. Lee Memorial Fund at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Knecht, a son, John E. Lee III of Venice; two daughters, Mrs. Rodney (Mary Frances) Bauder and Miss Peggy Lee, both of Venice; and two sisters, Mrs. Catherine (Hildebrand) and Mrs. Charles (Simmons), both of Venice.

State owes $2 billion to teacher retirement fund

What would you say if someone told you the state of Illinois owes an organization a debt of more than $2 billion? Ridiculous?

The state would easily go bankrupt if its leaders decided to obey the law and pay what it owes to the Downstate Teachers Retirement System. The legally binding debt amounts to more than one-fourth of the annual state budget.

As a candidate for governor in April 1972, Daniel Walker gave Illinois teachers hope that their pension problem would be solved.

"As governor," he said, "I will pledge to insure that the state meet its obligations with regard to funding all pension systems. ... The budget will reflect that obligation."

When the time came for action, however, Gov. Walker, in his budget message last March said, "... It would be precipitous to embark in this budget upon any particular approach to adequate funding (of the teachers retirement system). ... Instead we need a full-scale examination of public pension programs."

The system and debt have been studied a number of times under different governors. The real problem appears to be the unwillingness of state officials to obey the law.

The $2 billion figure today is not stationary, either. It is growing with each passing year. The money is needed by the retirement system so that teachers can be sure they will have a pension when they retire.

The General Assembly and the legislature are continuing the fiscally dangerous policy of giving the system only the amount of money it needs to pay its bills each year.

As a result, teachers now paying into the retirement system have no guarantee the system will be able to produce their pension upon retirement.

All they have is a political promise.

How did the state get in this bind? When did it all begin?

In 1939 the General Assembly passed a law which required the state to put $1 in the Downstate Teachers Retirement System for every dollar a teacher contributed. Eight per cent of each public school teacher's salary is taken out of his paycheck and put in the system.

Even from that point the lawmakers and governors fell behind. But instead of trying to make good on their original commitment, our political leaders passed laws increasing the state matching contribution until it is now required to be $1.20 for every teacher dollar.

When you consider that the legislature and government are actually putting in only 60 cents per dollar, it's easy to see where the growing $2 billion monster came from.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Then Daniel Walker came along, and it looked like salvation to teachers for their retirement system.

When he failed them the teachers turned to the legislature.

With the help of Atty. Gen. William Scott Republican lawmakers proposed a plan for completely funding the pension system over the next 50 years.

The plan was the outcome of a lawsuit filed by the Illinois Education Association in the court of claims. It called for an initial appropriation of $245 million this year and then nearly $40 million a year for the next 50 years.

The bills passed, only to be inked-out by Walker. He allowed the system only $60 million, and guaranteed no plan.

Roy A. Baker, director of the Downstate Teachers Retirement System, says the $245 million 50-year plan was the "first responsible solution" to be attempted by the legislature.

"Right now I'm very much concerned that he (Walker) doesn't understand the problem," said Baker. "And he's no different than any other governor on that."

Baker said it appears the system can't depend on the state. "We'll probably have to go to court to get the system funded up to 70 or 75 per cent," he said. "I would hope we wouldn't let it go that route."

A financially sound pension system should be funded at the 70 per cent rate, according to experts. The Downstate Teachers Retirement System is funded at 28 per cent.

Of the five state-financed pension systems — judges, state universities, downstate teachers, state employees and General Assembly — only one, the General Assembly Retirement System (which insures the old age of legislators), is funded at the financially sound rate of 70.2 per cent.

The next closest pension funding rate is the state universities retirement system at 51.2 per cent.

The teachers' pension system has more participants than any of the five other systems — 140,000 compared to the next largest at 65,000. It has the lowest funding rate — 28 per cent — and the largest state-owed debt — more than $2 billion.

The expense needs of the system for paying its retiring teachers are increasing at the rate of $25 million a year, Baker said.

If financial hard times ever hit state government, where will the money come from to insure payment of these pensions? If the state has no money to pay the actual expenses someday, there will be no pension fund of any size to depend on.

That could mean financial disaster for more than 140,000 families, and, as a result, financial disaster for the entire state.

Trojan cagers outscore South 60-40; Mascoutah wins 65-50

It was the 1965-66 basketball season, the Granite City High School Warriors were sweeping the courts with 10 straight victories, and then they met the Trojans of Madison who broke Granite City's winning streak.

Since then, the Warriors have captured every game between the two schools, until Friday, Nov. 30, 1973, when Madison led from start to finish to defeat the visitors 60-40.

South lost to Mascoutah 65-50 here Saturday.

South, with only one returning letterman, Mike Martinez, got off to a slow start against the Trojans, taking only three points in the first quarter as compared to Madison's 18. The Trojans picked up 18 more in the second period as South scored 10.

Down 36-13 at halftime, the Warriors bounced back with 18 points to Madison's 15 in the third period. Still playing catch up, South's defense held the Madison squad to only nine points, but South also was held to nine.

Rudolph Bradley, six-foot junior, led the Trojans in scoring on eight field goals, one free throw, and was the recipient of eight rebounds.

Chris Stanley, 6'1 senior, had 10 points, four field goals, three free throws, and eight rebounds. Carl Campbell, 6'2 senior, popped in 14 points while committing four fouls. He had six field goals, two free throws and six rebounds. Jon Henke, 6'1 senior, committed one foul, made six points, three field goals, and had two rebounds.

Ron Glasper, 5'10 senior, made four fouls while taking a like number of rebounds. Darryl Franklin, 6'2 junior, committed no fouls and made nine points with four field goals, one free throw and took two rebounds. Both teams had 25 turnovers in the game.

South's anticipated star,

Martinez, who led the Warriors in scoring last season, was held scoreless in the first and fourth quarters and scored only six in the second and six in the third. He sunk four of five free throws, committed no fouls and earned four field goals.

Junior Bob Hutchings made six points, 6'4 senior Terry Hollis committed four fouls while picking up three field goals. Ken Bertrand, 6'5 junior, also had four fouls but he dumped in 11 points with five free throws and three field goals.

The only other point maker for South was 6'3 sophomore Rick Fancher who had one foul and a total of five points.

Madison had 27 field goals to South's 13. The Trojans committed 17 fouls, three more than the visiting team but had 11 offensive rebounds and 20 defensive rebounds as compared to South's five and 14.

Madison, now 2-1, faces McKinley at St. Louis tomorrow.

South carried its 0-1 record against the Mascoutah Indians Saturday night at Granite City and came out in the loss column once again, losing to the visitors by a score of 65-50.

Martinez led the Warriors in scoring with 17 points. South has a week off, and will face Quincy on Friday, Dec. 14, at 8 p.m. on the Warriors' home court.

Against Mascoutah, South trailed 12-8 after the first period but caught up at 20-20 before the visitors went on a 14-1 spree and garnered a 34-21 halftime lead. It was 51-31 after three periods.

Bob Hutchings scored 15, Ken Bertrand eight, Terry Hollis six and Dale Williams and Keith Gehling, two each.

Both teams qualified for the championship game posting winning records. McBridge-Kehoe entered the game with a 5-1 season record and Mendoza Sporting with a 5-1 season record.

North five opens with 50-47 win; bow 68-56

Granite City High School North opened its first varsity basketball season successfully, staying off a rally by Springfield Griffin to win 50-47 here Friday night. But North's Stealers were stopped 68-56 at Okawville Saturday evening despite Dave Schnefke's 27 points.

Against Griffin, the shooting of 5-8 senior guard Don Lloyd proved devastating and he finished the game with 20 points.

South matmen open with pair of wins

1 win, 1 loss open North mat season

The new wrestlers of GCHS North split a pair of meets this weekend, starting the season with a 24-15 loss against Mundelein here Friday but then snapping back to defeat Hazelwood, Mo., across the river 20-14 Saturday.

Steelers individual results, against Mundelein and Hazelwood, by weights, were: 98-pounds—Randy Hartline, lost 6-4, won 8-4, 105—Neil Pierson, won 4-0, won by a pin in

A strong defense by the host Rockets prevented North from catching up Saturday.

Coach Bill Ohlendorf's brand new ball club led Griffin 10-4, 22-15 and 35-28 at the quarters before being outscored by the visitors 19-15 in the final quarter.

In addition to Lloyd, Schnefke helped out with nine points, Mike Waldo nine, Gene Logas six, Greg Gauen four and Cary Simpson, two.

Ahead 15 points at one time, the Stealers began mixing free throws and had to battle to prevail over strong Springfield.

North cashed in 18 field goals but hit only 14 of 31 charity tosses, while Griffin scored 19 baskets and nine free throws.

At Okawville, North trailed by a close margin until the hosts moved to a 29-21 edge, and it was 34-28 at halftime. Okawville improved the score to 48-37 after three periods and then settled for a 19-19 standoff in the final quarter.

New area college athletic grouping

It will be more than a grudge match when McKendree College plays SIUE in the McKendree gymnasium Wednesday night—it'll be the first battle for the leadership of Division 1 of the new St. Louis Area College Athletic Association.

Games between SIUE and the McKendree Bearcats always have been hard-fought, with the Cats relishing an upset of the 20-time larger school whenever possible. Last year, McKendree was victorious by 10 points in double overtime.

The new ingredient came about Thursday at a meeting of athletic directors and sports information directors of eight St. Louis area four-year colleges and universities.

Chuck Smith, athletic director of the University of Missouri-St. Louis, was elected the association's first chairman.

The eight schools joining the association are McKendree, Concordia Seminary, Harris Teachers College, Missouri Baptist College, St. Louis University, SIUE, Washington University and University of Missouri-St. Louis.

South to be regional basketball meet host

The 1973-74 basketball season has "only begun" but plans already are complete for post-season competition that will produce state champions in Class AA (big schools) and Class A (smaller high schools). The 1974 Class A tournament centers include regional sites at DuPont and Triad (St. Jacob area).

Winners of these meets and tournaments at Litchfield and St. Elmo will compete in sectional play at Vandalia. Survivors of the Vandalia and Red Hill of Bridgeport tournaments will collide in a super-sectional contest at Eastern Illinois University in Charleston, with the winner there moving on to the eight-team state finals at Champaign.

In Class AA basketball, Alton, Belleville East, East St. Louis and Granite City South regional champions will vie next at Collinsville.

Sectional titlists at meets in Collinsville and West Frankfort will vie at the super-sectional level at Central High of Carbondale.

Sites announced Friday by the Illinois High School Association show only a few changes from last season's assignments. Executive Secretary Harry Fitzhugh advised the Press-Record.

Several schools have switched classes. Going from Class A status to AA are Clinton, Metamora and Richton Park (Rich South). Dropping from Class AA to Class A are Metropolis and East St. Louis (Lincoln).

East St. Louis (Lincoln), last spring's co-champion in Class A, was scheduled to be closed this year, but plans to send students from Lincoln to East St. Louis (St. Louis) were dropped. Lincoln has a three-year enrollment of 506.

New schools entering the series in Class AA are Wheaton-Warrenville, Buffalo Grove and Granite City North. New in Class A is West Chicago (Wheaton Christian).

Schools dropped, generally because of consolidations, are: Randolph, Chicago (Little Flower), Dahlgren, East Lynn, Macomb (Western), St. Francisville and Sumner.

Schools are classified according to enrollment on the sixth day of the year. Schools with enrollments of 750 and less are in Class A. Schools with enrollments of 751 or more are in Class AA.

Ridgeway won the 1973 Class A title, while Chicago (Hirsch) took Class AA honors last season.

Only three changes were made in super-sectional sites. In Class A, Moline replaces Rock Island, and Streator (Twp.) replaces Pontiac.

Joliet (Central) will host the Class AA super-sectional held the past few years by Crete (C. Monee).

All super-sectional games in both classes, except the Class AA battles at DeKalb (Northern Illinois University Fieldhouse) and Northwestern (McCaw Hall), will be played at 8 p.m. The two exceptions are scheduled for 4 p.m.

There were two changes in sites for Class A sectional competition, and seven for Class AA. Eldorado replaces Norris City (N.C.-Omaha) and Sparta replaces Pinckneyville in Class A.

In Class AA, sectional changes include: Rock Island replacing East Moline (United), Collinsville replacing East St. Louis (St. Louis), Arlington Heights (Arlington) replacing Elk Grove Village (Elk Grove), Downers Grove (North) replacing Romeoville, Elgin (H.S.) replacing Palatine (Fremd), Peoria (Richwoods) replacing Peoria (H.S.) and Kankakee (Westview) replacing Streator (Twp.).

In the great majority of the site changes, we're following a policy developed by the schools in the area of rotating sites on an annual basis," Fitzhugh noted.

Assignment of sites is based on an adequate facility being available, Fitzhugh noted, attendance at tournaments over previous years.

When new facilities become available, Fitzhugh noted, the IHSA, upon written request from that school, gives consideration to assignment of a series tournament to the new facility, providing all work on it is completed prior to the scheduled start of the tournament.

This year, 464 schools will begin the chase for Class A honors at 64 regional sites Feb. 25. The other 240 schools begin Class AA regional warfare March 5.

Complete dates for the Class A series are: Regionals — Feb. 25 — March 1; Sectionals — March 5-8; Super-Sectionals — March 12; State Final — March 15-16 at the Assembly Hall on the campus of the University of Illinois.

Complete Class AA dates are: Regionals — March 5-8; Sectionals — March 12-13; Super-Sectionals — March 19; State Final — March 22-23.

Abbie Hoffman, a political activist during the 1960s, will speak at SIUE at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Meridian Ballroom of the University Center.

Hoffman, one of the defendants in the Chicago Seven trial, will speak on "The State of Radical Politics and the Chicago Seven Trial."

Admission will be 50 cents for students and $1 for non-students. His visit is being sponsored by the University Center Board.

Mitchell A.C. registration

Harry Breckner, president of the Mitchell Athletic Club, has announced Tuesday will be the final registration date for its 1973-74 basketball season which begins on Dec. 15 at the Mitchell School Gymnasium.

Boys in third through twelfth grade age levels are needed to complete teams in four divisions of competition.

Interested persons may register at the Mitchell School Gymnasium tomorrow between 6 and 7 p.m. A $4 per person registration fee will be required.

Park volleyball registration ending

Thursday will be the deadline for Granite City Park District teams wishing to participate in the 1973 Coed volleyball program to register for the season which begins on Thursday, Dec. 13 at Grigsby Junior High School.

According to Mike Jesse, director of recreation, the program is designed to provide informal recreation for couples, both single and married.

Jesse said registrations are being accepted on a first-come, first-served basis with no more than 16 teams to be accepted.

The registration and entry fee is $30 per team with each team to play a 12 game schedule.

Tax relief now 'inoperative'

By KEN WATSON
Springfield—What happened to tax relief? That was the big question being asked beneath the Statehouse Dome as Illinois lawmakers began gathering to hear details of the summit agreement on a Chicago area Regional Transit Authority (RTA) reached in high-level talks at Chicago.

Key points of the agreement made public by Gov. Walker made no mention of tax relief although this was one of the big stumbling blocks that had blocked any RTA compromise during the five weeks of legislative wrangling.

The omission of any tax reference indicated that a "truce" on the issue was probably a factor in bringing about an agreement.

Throughout the session, the two major protagonists, Walker and House Speaker Rep. W. Blair, R-Park Forest, were playing the tax relief angle for all possible political advantage. It was their determination to tie it in to RTA that was in large measure responsible for the continued deadlock.

Blair wanted to provide tax relief mainly through a reduction in the state sales tax, while Walker wanted to do it through a rebate of state income tax payments.

Instead of any relief, residents in the six-county area to be served by the RTA will find themselves paying a variety of tax increases, including a five per cent hike in the motor fuel tax.

Not only will Illinoisans elsewhere in the state not receive any tax reduction, but they will find themselves being taxed indirectly through allotment of money from the state's general fund to help finance the RTA.

Then there is the issue of a state lottery, also perhaps part of the summit deal, which in itself is a form of tax and one which tax authorities agree falls heaviest on lower income families.

It is a reflection of the odd way in which business has been transacted during the current session that one of its hottest issues can be quietly buried with few questions asked.

Preliminary questioning of some of the participants by reporters brought only the embarrassed response that the matter might come up again at the 1974 session.

Many of the individual legislators will welcome the shelving of the tax relief issue, which some have considered merely a political ploy of Walker and Blair. To many it was sheer nonsense to tie RTA and tax relief together in the first place.

The Walker-Blair compromise makes its strongest claim for ratification by the House and Senate on the "sweetest" included for Downstate that will increase transportation bond issue funds for completion of the supplemental highway system. The amount of bonds will be hiked from $600 million to $800 million, about what Downstate Republicans have wanted all along.

As for an tax relief is concerned, that subject is to be resumed when the lawmakers reconvene in election year 1974.

While the national economic recession possibly on the horizon, tax relief as a means to spur the economy is certain to be popular again. You can bet that Daniel Walker and Bob Blair will again be out in front of the parade.

Urges 30 per cent cut in state vehicle usage

Roland W. Burris, director of the State Department of General Services, Thursday asked all departments and agencies of state government to reduce their vehicle operations by 30 per cent during the rest of the current fiscal year to conserve gasoline.

Director Burris said a 1.7 million gallon decrease in the gasoline available for contract by the state and a federal request that oil companies devote more of their production to heating oils and less to gasoline this winter led to the request.

Director Burris said: "With no strong prospects in sight to obtain more gasoline than is already contracted, there is no alternative other than a cutback in consumption. "A cut in consumption by 30 per cent by all state agencies would allow the Department of General Services to handle all emergency situations and supply normal usage to the state police and state highway maintenance vehicles for the balance of fiscal year 1974."

Burris noted that state gasoline use during the first four months of this fiscal year is down from the same period of last year. But he said the amount available to the state is 26 per cent less than last year.

Director Burris cautioned directors and agency heads that for the conservation effort to succeed in evenly distributing the effects of the gasoline shortage, vehicle use must be cut back in all cases.

He said: "I solicit your cooperation in reducing your vehicle operations by 30 per cent, whether in state-owned vehicles or private vehicles subsidized by the state."

"For an agency to cut back its use of state gasoline stations is not enough. It does not benefit the people of Illinois to go outside to buy gasoline for state vehicles or to transfer operations to private vehicles and reimburse employees."

"The outside cost is substantially higher and the supply available to us is predicated on the amount available to our suppliers, who are gasoline dealers in the local communities."

Venice public hearing on new school program

A proposed new program designed to help eliminate minority group isolation and possible discrimination will be the subject of a public hearing at 7 p.m. Wednesday in the library at Venice High School.

All residents of the Venice School District are being urged to attend the hearing, learn more about the program and express their views. Assistant Superintendent Robert N. Vickers said.

The program will be financed with Title VII federal funds, also known as the Emergency School Aid Act.

An advisory committee, consisting of Venice residents, was established some time ago when the Title VII project first was proposed. Vickers said. Members of the group are met and will be in attendance at this week's meeting, he added.

Primary objectives of the program are to meet the special needs incident to the elimination of minority group segregation and discrimination among students and faculty in elementary and high schools; to encourage the voluntary elimination, reduction or prevention of minority group isolation; and to aid students in overcoming the educational disadvantages of minority group isolation.

The advisory committee also will serve as a responsible liaison group between the community and school district regarding all phases of the program, Vickers said.

New Ill. primary law awaited

What happens now that the U. S. Supreme Court has turned down Illinois' voter switch law? The nation's top court has turned thumbs down on a state law which prevented voters from switching parties in a 20-month period. The Supreme Court in its ruling said the law infringed in the freedom of a voter banding with others of the same political belief.

The court fight started in 1972 when a Chicago housewife was prevented from voting in the Democratic Party primary because in 1971 she had voted in the Chicago Republican primary for mayor.

The first ruling on the matter was made by a three-judge panel, which held that the law infringed on an individual's freedom.

The U. S. Supreme Court also said Illinois' law in effect "locked" a voter into an existing party for a long period of time. The majority of the Court's justices said that this "locking" in of the voter would continue with each succeeding primary election.

When the Illinois law was passed, supporters said it would prevent "raiding" of one political party by the other. They also maintained it would help in the construction of a political party. Up to last year, the law did work to a degree in those ways.

The Illinois General Assembly may have to depend on specifics of the Supreme Court ruling in preparing new legislation to meet the high court's guidelines.

In its ruling, the Supreme Court touched on the New York law, which earlier this year was presented for a ruling.

The court upheld the New York law, under which provisions a voter is required to register a party affiliation 11 months before a primary election.

However, some Illinois legislators say this could be cumbersome and cause a great deal of record keeping at the county clerk level.

Another alternative is to go to an "open" primary. Under this system a voter would not have to declare any party.

Each would be given a ballot covering the political parties. The voter upon entering the voting booth could mark for only one party. If he selected candidates at random from more than one political party, it would mean a spoiled ballot.

In the past when attempts have been made to change the system of voting primary elections, stiff legislative opposition has appeared. But now, with the recent court rulings, lawmakers wanting to change the method will be armed with new ammunition.

New tennis court studied

The Granite City Park Board Thursday night decided to consider a request for construction of an additional public tennis court.

The request was made at the regular meeting by George Voegelger and Francis Herman who told the board that they feel the present Wilson Park facility is adequate for its location, but that other areas within the park district also are in need of such a facility.

The board said the request would be "seriously considered" in the next fiscal budget meeting.

Madison school post filled

The Madison Board of Education, meeting Thursday night in special session, hired Lee McDaniel to serve in two half-time functions.

McDaniel is to devote mornings to teaching a kindergarten class at Blair School and will spend the remaining half-day as a teacher of remedial reading in the intermediate grades and in the Madison Junior High School.

The board also clarified the job duties of Eldon B. Rhoads, maintenance supervisor for the district. John Patchell, superintendent of schools, would say only that there had been a "misunderstanding of duties" for Rhoads which was clarified between the board members and the supervisor at the meeting.

POWER BLACKOUTS

On Sept. 23, 1970, electrical outages occurred along the East Coast as a prolonged heat wave taxed low power reserves.

2 hurt in Venice

Two women were injured when the cars of Miss Rena M. Deal, 23, of 26 Garesche Homes, Madison, and Jodie A. Luster, East St. Louis, collided in the 1300 block of Klein St., Venice, at 3:05 p.m. Thursday.

Miss Deal and Miss Vickie Handridge, 20, of 525 N. 2nd Ave., Venice, a passenger in the Luster auto, were taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital where Miss Deal was admitted with injuries to her left side and Miss Handridge was treated for injuries to her right leg and was released.

Record steel shipments

A new record Friday showed the domestic steel industry set its second shipments record in a row during September.

American Iron and Steel Institute said that during the month, mills in this country sent their customers 8,505,000 tons of steel—the highest September shipment total on record. It was nearly a million tons more than the 7,929,000 tons of domestic steel shipments in the same month of 1972.

The 9,422,000 tons of steel shipped in August of this year also were a record for that month.

Through the first nine months of this year, domestic steel shipments had reached 83,422,000 tons, compared with 67,379,000 tons of shipments during the comparable period of 1972.

Charles Patterson to manager post

Charles Patterson has been named manager of Public Finance Corp., 2001 State St., according to J. P. McGrath, vice-president and executive supervisor of American Investment Company's Central Division.

Public Finance is a subsidiary of American Investment Co.

The new manager joined AIC in November 1971 at another office in East St. Louis. At the time of his promotion, he was acting manager of the Granite City office.

The Granite City office is part of a nationwide chain of nearly 800 consumer finance branches which annually make more than 800,000 loans. American Investment, a St. Louis-based diversified finance firm, operates subsidiaries in 39 states.

Albert E. Doerr, District 16 member of the Madison County Board, representing Chouteau Precincts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5 and 6 and Nameoki 3, a candidate for reelection, said today he would like to "clear the air" on public statements on sanitary sewers.

"One of my opponents, Supervisor Sparks, says my statements are misleading and untrue. Well, I disagree wholeheartedly.

"They are statements issued by Sheppard, Morgan and Schwaab, from a member of the sewer program on which Mr. Sparks serves as chairman. I don't think these people would lie to the public," Doerr commented.

"I don't believe in gloom and doom or 'no progress in sight,' as Mr. Sparks seems to. Also, Mr. Sparks said I have never attended a meeting of the Planning Committee or an official meeting on sewers.

"My answer is that I have attended several meetings of Environmental Control and Ecology and Sewer meetings at which Mr. Sparks was not present, nor was his name even mentioned. I also attended meetings where we both attended.

"Speaking honestly and sincerely, I have the sewer program of Chouteau Township, Nameoki, Venice and Granite City close to my heart and will do everything in my power on the County Board for my friends in this area to promote every issue concerning the sewer program.

"This is not for political publicity. I have all the political publicity any candidate needs.

"I am sure the engineers, sewer committee and officials are doing everything possible to get this gigantic project started as soon as possible.

"I stated before that we all know there is considerable work ahead for all of us to insure the lowest possible cost to residents through federal and state grants. Furthermore, I feel that a system of our magnitude has generated much interest.

"I personally contacted Senator Sam Vadalabene, Representatives Horace Calvo and Leland Kennedy and other leading local officials on using their influence to help us in anyway to obtain federal and state grants and to expedite all ways and means.

"I appreciate all Mr. Sparks has done in the past seven years and will do in the future as Chouteau Township supervisor for sewer program.

"But I disagree with his statements that rapid progress is virtually impossible.

"In my campaign in 1971, I stated that if elected I would show progress in a six-month period on sewers. This was done, the engineers and planners were measuring door-to-door hookups and surveying in less than the six-month period.

"I receive letters on most of all meetings held on sewer programs. The most recent is on the Nov. 6 Environmental Protection Agency hearing held in Carbondale on new priorities for federal funds.

"The four-township sanitary sewer system has been divided into two grant applications—interceptor sewers and collector sewers.

"The EPA interpretation of this action is that an endeavor is being made to clean up rivers and streams first and that sewage treatment plants and interceptor sewers will directly contribute to that goal.

"Communities with a high rate of pollution of the waterways receive a high priority. Our priority is 376 for interceptors and 582 for collectors.

"In view of our priority, it appears that the four-township system may not be funded with fiscal 1974 EPA funds.

"However, regional plans will be considered separately in the East St. Louis and Chicago metropolitan areas.

"Upon conclusion of the public hearings, the EPA officials will meet with us to determine whether our plans are considered regional.

"The EPA has also divided the funds into three steps: (1) preliminary planning funds, (2) final planning funds and (3) construction funds.

"Systems with a low priority rating may receive step one of two step funds.

"In addition to the federal funds, there are state funds available for which a clear formula has not been released at this time.

"The Madison County four-township committee does feel that our system is regional. We have completed final planning and we are still hopeful that fiscal 1974 funding will be considered.

"The County Board members concerned in this area are all aware of what problems we have to secure federal and state grants for our sewer program, and will assist in every way possible in promotion of this great project," Doerr concluded.

Good things at Madison High

"There are many good things happening at Madison High School," Mrs. Dolores Folkerts, school counselor, told the Madison Rotary Club at its meeting last week in the Madison Recreation Center.

Mrs. Folkerts noted the parent and student advisory committees are "doing an excellent job." She said there is great unity in many areas between black and white students and their parents.

Areas of unity noted were that both groups are interested in good education, better discipline, and equal opportunities for everyone.

She pointed out that 10 per cent of the student body is on the honor roll, three MHS students were picked for poetry awards out of 20 given in the entire state, and the "basketball team is looking great."

Mrs. Folkerts invited the Rotarians to visit the school. The club donated $50 for two lights on the Salvation Army's local "Tree of Lights" in Civic park, 1300 block of Nidringhaus Ave., to help needy families at Christmas time.

Rotarian Robert Vickers will be in charge of next week's program and will have as his guest speaker Pat Patters of the Big Brother organization.

Gas station compliance low

Leon C. Green, district director of Internal Revenue for central and southern Illinois, announced today that spot checks of service stations in central and southern Illinois by the IRS have revealed that more than 50 per cent of the stations contacted have not complied with Phase IV Petroleum Posting Regulations. The affected service stations are required to post stickers on each pump setting out the maximum selling price and the octane number for each grade of gasoline sold from that pump. Green pointed out that service stations who do not comply with these regulations will be liable for a penalty up to $2,500. He said that beginning today, IRS agents will expand their spot checks of service stations.

Persons wishing to register complaints or seek additional information may do so by calling 217-525-4362.

GC man manages N.Y. Sky Club

Carl Hibner, a former Granite Cityan and brother of Mrs. Theima Worley, 2441 Lincoln Ave., now manager of New York's Sky Club was host to the club's 10th anniversary reception held in November when the Tanager Award for outstanding club manager was awarded.

Hibner was one of the candidates for the award. He has spent 25 years in his profession, having managed some of the most exclusive private dining clubs.

The Sky Club is on the 56th floor of the Pan Am building and is decorated in the style of the 18th and 19th centuries with over $1 million worth of paintings and antiques, featured in its 15 dining rooms and bar areas.

The former resident began his career as a counter boy at a White Castle in Chicago and during World War II was chef purser for Grace Lines and for Lykes Brothers Steamship Co. He also held the position of head captain in hotels such as the Fontainebleau in Miami Beach and the St. Regis and Pierre Hotels in New York.

Upon entering the club field he managed Gardner's Bay County Club, New York's Knickerbocker Club and the Middle Bay Country Club, Oceanside, L. I., before joining the Sky Club in 1972. He and his wife, Ann, reside in Cold Spring-on-Hudson, N.Y.

Flu advice remains same

When noses are red and fingers turn blue, 'tis the season for catching the flu.

While health authorities across the nation have been warning that a new, more hardy strain of last year's London flu may hit this country this winter, the season for true influenza is just starting.

Dr. Byron Francis of the Illinois Department of Public Health says there had been no confirmed flu cases reported in the state as of the Thanksgiving holiday.

To help the department keep a closer eye on the situation, a new surveillance system is being adopted by the Communicable Disease Control Section.

Dr. Francis said a selected number of school systems, industries, hospital emergency rooms and private doctors' offices have agreed to file routine reports on the number of suspected flu cases which either require medical treatment at the doctor's office or hospital, or cause absenteeism from school or work.

A small group of unconfirmed reports of school absences attributed to "flu" were received from one school district in McLean County, Dr. Francis said. He added that since most respiratory illnesses at this time of year are inaccurately labeled "flu" by laymen, there have still been no confirmed influenza cases in Illinois this winter.

Doctors are required to report confirmed flu cases to the department, but since confirmation takes some time, the patient usually has already recovered before the diagnosis is confirmed.

This time lag creates a dangerous delay in alerting a community to the presence of flu as rapidly as possible when it is first diagnosed, the state believes.

Hopefully, the new surveillance system will permit faster warnings that flu cases are apparently present in a community.

While inoculations will not prevent influenza, they do lessen the effects and are particularly recommended for the high-risk population, which includes persons with chronic cardiac or respiratory diseases or chronic metabolic problems like diabetes.

They also are recommended for those 65 and over, since this group is generally more susceptible, as well as including large numbers of cardiac and respiratory cases.

Inoculations will again be given in series of two, Dr. Francis said, but where two doses of one vaccine were given before, one shot of each of two vaccines will be given this year.

The one is for the older type of flu, and the other is intended to combat the new "bug" which may invade the U.S. from Europe this winter.

While only limited sources have been included in the surveillance system, spontaneous reports of outbreaks are "welcome," Dr. Francis said.

No matter which strain strikes the victim, medical advice remains the same—bed rest, light diet, plenty of fluids, and aspirin for fever or pain, Dr. Francis said.

Nixon says 'no'

Ronald Grzywacz, a Madison police officer whose outdoor Christmas lighting decorations have won acclaim for many years, plans no special display this year.

Instead, Grzywacz said, he intends to erect a sign on the roof of his home at 1204 Alton Ave., saying simply, "Nixon says No."

Grzywacz noted that "for the past 12 years my family has enjoyed sharing the happiness of the Christmas season with others," but said the President's ban on outdoor Christmas lighting will prohibit the decorations this year.

Grzywacz's home, along with that of Donald Bridick, another Madison police officer who lives at 1125 McCambridge Ave., have won top honors among

School Code is updated

The 51st edition is out, and it has a new look.

The 1973 School Code of Illinois with additional acts affecting schools has been revised and distributed by the Office of the Superintendent of Public Instruction. The Code is the official "rule book" governing state education.

"This is an updated version of the Code done in a new format," explained a spokesman from the OSPI. "It is unique in a couple of ways."

The first is the fact that it was prepared in a looseleaf form that will permit future insertions of changes in the law without reprinting the entire Code.

Because it was compiled prior to the end of the last legislative session, laws adopted during 1973 are not included in this edition. Therefore, a supplement is under way which may be inserted right into the Code revision.

Secondly, various "additional acts" which are important to school personnel have been integrated into the body of the Code. Previously, they were included in a separate section in the back of the book.

A table of contents listing the various "additional acts" is also included. Topics ranging from curfew laws to gifted children to the sex education act are included.

Probably the most noticeable change in format is the revised index located in the back of the book. Using a "word description" format, the index contains over 16,000 items, and average of eight entries per statutory paragraph.

For example, to find information pertaining to "Building Fund Expenditure," the reader would look for each of the words in the phrase, "Fund," "Expenditure" or "Building."

The last edition of the Code, which is distributed to local and regional school superintendents, was printed in 1968.

ABOUT THIS QUESTION:

"In auto deaths, a jury often awards $50,000, even $100,000, to a family to cover the lost earnings of a father who is killed. Is it any wonder that insurance rates are rising? Is it unrealistic to carry auto liability insurance of less than $100,000?"

GCHS-N council to landscape

The Granite City High School-North Student Council is planning a contest between freshmen, sophomore, junior and senior classes to raise money to landscape an interior court area.

The interior court lies between the library and the school cafeteria.

The council hopes to lay patio blocks for an interior walkway in addition to planting grass, shrubs and flowers.

Details of the contest are being worked out by the council and will be announced to the student body when they are completed.

Optimist head speaks here

Robert F. James of Aurora, governor of the Illinois District of Optimist International, was a guest and speaker at the Thursday meeting of the Optimist Club in the YMCA here.

Governor James, who was accompanied by Cotton Roberts, lieutenant governor of the district, spoke briefly to club members, complimenting them on the club's program of civic activities.

James was elevated to the office of chief administrator of the Illinois district at the annual district convention at Springfield in September. He will serve in the office of governor through September 1974.

The local Optimist club is active on the community scene with various service programs and projects, particularly in the area of youth.

The speaker was introduced by Kent Dunn, program chairman.

David V. Fox is president of the Granite City club.

Optimist M. A. Wittevrongel introduced Donald Shaffner as a guest.

ROBERT F. JAMES

The next meeting will be held at the Officer's Club of the Granite City Army Installation beginning at 6 p.m. Present members of the club are being asked to invite prospective members as guests.

School safety helmets bought by Kiwanians

The Breakfast Kiwanis Club has purchased two safety patrol helmets for each elementary school in Granite City, Madison and Venice, it was reported at the group's Thursday meeting at Charlie's Restaurant by Kiwanian B. J. Davis, youth services chairman.

The club will donate two more helmets next year to each grade school, and continue until each school has six; thereafter replacement helmets will be furnished as needed, club finances permitting.

Brief reports were given by the following club committee chairmen: Dr. Thomas P. Layloff, membership; Melvin L. Gillie, spiritual aims; Max Boyd, major emphasis; Don Moser, inner club, and Richard Wade, public relations.

Gillie reported that members would be Salvation Army bellringers Saturday from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m. to help raise $13,500 for needy families at Christmas.

Norman Kinder, an attorney, reported the club's incorporation papers have been filed.

Instead of the normal breakfast meeting Thursday the club will hold its first ladies night beginning at 6:30 p.m. in the Charlie's Restaurant.

At the Dec. 13 breakfast meeting, Capt. Robert Nunn of the Granite City Fire department will present a program on Christmas fire safety.

Students plan Yule baskets

Students at Granite City High School-North are being asked by the Student Council to bring donations of canned goods to home rooms at school to help fill food baskets for needy families.

The home room that collects the most canned goods will be treated to a hamburger party by McDonald Restaurant, according to Harry Cook, student council advisor.

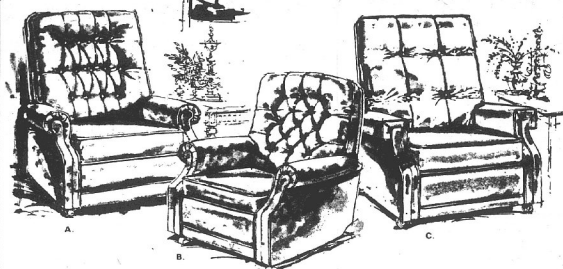

The Student council will receive names of 30 needy families from the local Salvation Army and on Dec. 21 will deliver the baskets.

The council will buy a turkey for each of the 30 baskets of food to be distributed.

MRS. STEPHEN C. HILEMAN, the former Miss Sharon Ann Bono, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Bono, 2545 Waterman Ave. She was married at Nameoki United Methodist church. (Gravemann Photography)

Sharon Ann Bono bride of Stephen C. Hileman

Nameoki United Methodist Church was the scene of the wedding on Nov. 17 of Miss Sharon Ann Bono, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Derwood Bono, 2545 Waterman Ave., and Stephen Curtis Hileman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hileman, 2330 Lynch Ave.

Bouquets of white mums and pom poms decorated the sanctuary for the double ring ceremony performed at 5 p.m. by the Rev. William Foster.

During the service, Mrs. Lois Bilbey sang "One Hand, One Heart," "Sunrise, Sunset" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied at the organ by David Long.

Mr. Bono escorted his daughter down the white carpeted aisle and gave her in marriage. She chose a bridal gown fashioned of ivory silk faille and peau de ange lace designed in an Empire style.

Long tapered lace sleeves were set into a fitted bodice, featuring a V-neckline of sculptured lace. The A-line skirt was appliqued with lace motifs and fell gently into a chapel train.

Her lace headpiece was trimmed with rows of tiny pearls accented with a lace rose on each side and secured a fingertip length veil of ivory silk illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of ivory roses and baby breath centered with a detachable corsage of ivory roses.

A sister of the bride, Mrs. Janet Daniel, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids included Mrs. Carol Grimm, another sister of the bride, Miss Marsha Hileman, the groom's sister, and Miss Donna Spahr.

The attendants were dressed alike in raly velvet gowns created with sleeveless Empire-bodices, high necklines and A-line skirts. Complementing their frocks were short Eton jackets made with long sleeves and trimmed on cuffs with a velvet ruffle.

Each girl carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations and red Sweetheart roses.

The groom chose his brother,

Charles Hileman Jr., as best man. Tony Certa, Max Merz and Mike Adams were groomsmen and Kelly Grimm and Charles Daniel, a brother-in-law of the bride, seated the guests.

Keith Bono, a brother of the bride, served as the ringbearer. Mothers of the bride couple appeared in formal length gowns. Mrs. Bono, the bride's mother, selected an apricot jersey dress made with a molded bodice, high neckline and long tapered sleeves. A pleated cummerbund encircled the waistline, accenting the semi-full skirt.

Mrs. Hileman, mother of the groom, wore a powder blue knit dress designed with a mandarin collar, long sleeves and a softly gathered skirt. Both mothers wore corsages of white Sweetheart roses.

Immediately following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church fellowship hall. The rehearsal dinner took place at Rusty's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

The newly married couple is residing in Granite City following a wedding trip to the Lake of the Ozarks.

Both attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. The former Miss Bono is majoring in government education and is employed in the SIUE placement office.

Mr. Hileman, an accounting major, works for J. C. Penney Store in East Alton.

Sixty-four members and two guests, Mrs. Irene Wain and Miss Karen Scaturro, were welcomed by Mrs. Heath. She announced the society's Yule party will take place at 6:30 p.m. Dec. 12 in St. Elizabeth School cafeteria.

A party for children is set for 10:30 a.m. Dec. 21, with dismissal from school at noon to start the Christmas holidays.

The opening and closing prayer was offered by the Rev. John Savoree.

Christmas decorations were used on the dining tables and refreshments were served by the mothers of Miss Hoedbeck's fifth grade pupils.

MRS. CARL J. OTIS, the former Miss Mary A. Kula, who was married Friday evening at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Kula, 2443 Delmar Ave.

Old Cathedral setting of Otis-Kula wedding

Miss Mary A. Kula, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas A. Kula, 2443 Delmar Ave., and Carl J. Otis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Otis, 804 Blue Ridge Dr., Belleville, exchanged wedding vows Friday in an evening ceremony at the Old Cathedral in St. Louis.

Large bouquets of white mums and soft candlelight provided the setting for the double ring ceremony performed at 7:30 by the Rev. David Heneghan, pastor of St. Agnes Church, Springfield, Ill., and the Rev. Dr. William L. Weedman of Westview Baptist Church, Belleville.

Mrs. Virginia Curley presided at the organ for the Rev. David Claybrook, who sang The Lord's Prayer.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride chose a gown fashioned of white velvet over tulle with Venice lace accenting the Empire bodice and Edwardian collar.

A narrow band of matching lace edged the wide cuffs of the long gathered sleeves and marked the high rise waistline of her semi-full silhouette skirt. She wore a cathedral length mantilla veil trimmed with Venice lace and carried a colonial bouquet of pink Sweetheart roses, stephanotis and baby breath.

Mrs. Gerald Dorch, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She wore a ruby velvet dress, full length, designed in an Empire style. White Venice lace formed the high collar and trimmed the cuffs of the long full sleeves. She carried a colonial bouquet of Elegance carnations and baby breath festooned with red velvet streamers.

The groom chose William McMurtrie as his best man. Gerald Dorch, the bride's brother-in-law, and Art Nirscher seated the guests.

Mrs. Kula, mother of the bride, selected a beige and light brown dress-jacket ensemble worn with brown accessories.

Connie K. Koester and James Ahlers are wed

Miss Connie K. Koester became the bride of James M. Ahlers in a double ring ceremony on Nov. 24 at Hope Lutheran Church. The Rev. Thomas Teske and the Rev. Daniel Flynn, pastor of Sacred Heart Catholic Church, officiated.

Arrangements of white gladioli and pink pom poms adorned the altar and burning tapers in branched candelabra illuminated the sanctuary for the 5 o'clock evening service.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. John Koester, 2415 Delmar Ave. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard E. Ahlers, 2601 E. 28th St.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle by her father, the bride wore a white velvet gown fashioned in an Empire silhouette style. Venice lace trimmed the neckline, the fitted bodice and enhanced the long sheer sleeves.

Lace appliqued with motifs formed the sides of the long skirt and draped softly into a full sweep chapel train. She chose a short veil of bridal illusion secured with a band of Venice lace etched with pearls and small velvet ribbon.

The bridal bouquet was a colonial arrangement of miniature white carnations, pink Sweetheart roses and baby breath.

Matron of honor, Mrs. Richard Ahlers, the groom's sister-in-law, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Alan Koester, a sister-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Bruce Reese and Miss Ruth Noth, were dressed alike in gowns of burgundy velvet.

White Venice lace decorated the front bodice, necklines and encircled the waist and cuffs of the long tapered sleeves. They held bouquets of pink carnations and baby breath arranged with a large bow and streamers.

Diana Clifton, a cousin of the bride, served as flower girl. She wore a frock made similar to the bridesmaids' dresses and carried a basket of flower petals.

Attending the groom as best man was Bruce Reese, Richard and Gregor Ahlers, brothers of the groom, Michael Thornton, a brother-in-law of the groom, Richard Anlof and Barry Koester, a brother of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

A reception was held at Holy Trinity Hall in Madison, following the ceremony. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents at Riedel's Restaurant in Edwardsville.

The bride is a senior student in medical technology at St. Louis University. She is employed part-time in the chemistry laboratory at St. Mary's Health Center in Clayton, Mo.

Mr. Ahlers is an electrician at the Amay Zinc Co., in Saugat, Ill.

They are residing in Granite City.

Assistant Administrator Ted Eilerman announced today that a newly-formed Energy Crisis Committee has met to consider energy conservation at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The committee recommended several changes in procedure which were adopted by the hospital administration.

The following procedures are to be initiated immediately:

- 2.) Shut down the tray-vendor when not in use.
- 3.) Shut down the elevators, except the two in the central core of the Doctors' Wing and one of the elevators in the Binney Wing between the hours of 10 p.m. to 6 a.m.

Effective resurgence of activity by Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce

The robust resurgence being demonstrated by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce reflects credit on the officers, directors and members led by Chester L. Baker. It also illustrates the community's deep concern with current issues and needs — and its willingness to devote time, thought and energy to remedies which upgrade the quality of life and bolster the soundness of the Quad-City area economy.

Attendance at the 33rd annual meeting Nov. 28 exceeded 300. Another 50 reservations were received and would have been accepted if there had been room for a dinner gathering of that size at the meeting place. Chamber membership gains have resolved an early-1970s monetary squeeze.

President Baker gives direct leadership to the business development division, which seeks improved labor-management relations at plants and construction sites, and also industrial growth through expansion of existing manufacturing and attracting of new businesses.

Community improvement programs coordinated by Vice-President Maurice Dailey include downtown revitalization, environmental progress, highway and street extensions, temporary and permanent drainage improvements, crime prevention and control and assistance in meeting education goals.

Topics of the public affairs division headed by Dr. Felicia Koch, vice-president, include junior college service, tax agency efficiency, liaison with local-level government, evaluation of legislation, insurance improvements and efforts to assure fair property assessment.

Among activities of the women's division led by Mrs. Sara Dempsey, president, are community beautification, information for new residents, picture postcards of the Quad-Cities and continuous clean-up, paint-up programs in commercial areas.

Chamber Treasurer Robert E. Backs directs the organization improvement division, which includes the Ambassadors, budgeting, public relations, "Shop at home" efforts, health needs studies and emphasis on business ethics.

Because the Chamber of Commerce unites people of all interests, vocations, professions and organizations, it not only tackles a wide assortment of objectives but also has a high "batting average" in achieving them. All of which goes a long way toward explaining how such a large and helpful program as that of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber has been conceived and implemented.

Busy Junior Achievement center here teaching business tasks to hundreds

As was shown at a series of open house gatherings on four consecutive evenings last week, Junior Achievement is alive and well in the Quad-Cities and providing valuable insight to hundreds of local high school students seeking practical knowledge about the world of business.

Each group of students creates a specific company with a precise goal in mind — the planning, financing, manufacture and sale of a particular product expected to be useful to a number of prospective customers.

Because the tasks undertaken are similar to those encountered in operation of an actual corporation, the young people experience a full range of business-related problems and challenges.

Many of the firms organized in the early fall have shown a healthy volume of transactions by the time they are liquidated in the late spring; gross sales here since Oct. 1 exceeded $2,000. Even those "mini" companies which fail to break even have gained the learning process.

The roll call of sponsors includes A. O. Smith Corp., Granite City Steel, Illinois Power Co., Southwestern Bell Telephone Co., American Steel Foundries and First Granite City National Bank. This year's products range from home decorations and night lights to purses and apparel.

The local J.A. Center at 3307 Wabash Ave. is one of those affilitated with Junior Achievement of the Mississippi Valley. Both the Metropolitan and St. Louis metropolitan area programs consistently receive high ratings in comparison with similar business education programs throughout the nation.

Who will care for unwanted children?

To the Editor:

We protest the statement on abortion clinics by the Rev. Robert Kettelhub, who said he was representing 11 clergymen in the Tri-City area.

He said that the city has become outraged over this. We would like to know what he meant when he said "the city."

We and many of our friends and acquaintances live in Granite City and we do not support his views on this subject. We are sure many other people feel the same as we do.

If a woman doesn't want a baby, she shouldn't be forced to have it.

If Rev. Kettelhub and the other clergymen who think they are representing the people of the Tri-City area, and if the aldermen running our city want to force an unwanted woman or a married woman to have an unwanted child, then they should make sure that all the unwanted babies these women are forced to have and raise them in their own homes and churches.

If the aldermen and the churches would stop trying to make a pure city out of Granite City with their old-fashioned ideas, and instead do some simple things like eliminating the constant traffic jam at Nameoki and Johnson Roads with a simple left turn signal—and if they would repair some streets and stop air pollution by Granite City Steel—it would be a better place to live.

Asks parents of daughters to speak

To the Editor:

Three cheers to the Granite City woman who wrote the letter in the Nov. 21 issue of the Press-Record about urging the people to save abortions.

It seems to me that the two pastors so deeply involved in this do not realize how a mother with girl feels.

Father Mattingly, of course, is not married and has no children to have this worry. Rev. Kettelhub has three sons; he might have a different attitude if he had three daughters.

It seems to me that such highly educated people against this clinic.

Can't they read the statistics on rape, or young marriages that start out in pregnancy, or read the papers of a baby being beaten or mistreated because it really wasn't wanted?

How can mothers with daughters to speak out and help us save this much needed clinic.

MITCHELL MOTNER

Out-patient surgery plan defended

To the Editor:

In a day of high medical and hospital care, it is difficult to believe that an out-patient clinic is not wanted.

Minor surgery often requires no hospitalization, except to the point of protecting the hospital itself—not the patient.

To be able to go to a clinic would certainly leave the patient free to go home, and for many who are financially unable to have surgery because of the cost involved.

Of course, this does not apply to major surgery, which is much more serious and requires the hospital atmosphere for safe treatment.

We live in a country where each of us is supposed to be able to make our own decisions about personal family matters.

If a group of people feel they should have a clinic to keep their clinic from opening—where are our rights?

From what I understand, abortion is merely a part of the medical services to be offered at the clinic...a far cry from being the sole purpose for existence.

It seems a shame that a doctor who wants to help the people by opening an out-patient clinic is so severely censured when his efforts to improve our medical facilities should be applauded by us all.

WASHINGTON AVENUE RESIDENT

Profits—key to industry growth

(Partial text of talk Nov. 28 to the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce by Howard M. "Pete" Love, president of the Granite City Steel and Midwest Steel Divisions of National Steel Corp.)

It is my personal conviction that we had better start talking and thinking about a situation which confronts all of us with a stake in business—large business or small, and business here in the Tri-Cities and throughout the U.S.

The free enterprise system under which all of us operate is in deep, serious trouble.

It is unfortunate that people have been crying "Woe!" where free enterprise is concerned for many years. This woe, the woe is really here and the danger is that we may not believe it.

There has never been a time when business has had to operate in a climate of such hostility. Everything suggests that the condition is anything but temporary. Examples abound—ITT, corporate political gifts, demise of conglomerates, failure of JCS, two major banks in Dallas and California, etc.

As Fortune Magazine observed, "The U.S. private business world still flourishes if Ralph Nader started doing commercials for General Motors."

My purpose tonight is to examine some of the reasons for America's current anti-business mood and the likely consequences unless there is a re-energizing effort to restore public knowledge of and public attitudes about business.

I also want to suggest that there is a way to reverse the declining reputation of business—an approach which can be followed by the individual business and by business organizations such as our own Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce.

Let's start by looking at the extent to which business has lost favor among its one and only staunch supporter, the American public.

American attitudes toward all institutions have been changing since the mid-1960s. Government, military institutions—all have lost ground as a result of a major shift in public opinion.

Today, none of the major institutions in our society has suffered as great a decline in public reputation as business.

National public opinion surveys taken in the mid-1960s showed that American business enjoyed a good reputation with every important segment of the American public. Not any longer!

A survey shows our major corporations have suffered a 50 per cent decline in public confidence since 1966. Other segments of the business community have lost almost as much ground in those seven years.

Retail stores are down 44 per cent in public confidence, banks and financial institutions have lost 33 per cent, and advertising 38 per cent.

The reputation of business has been getting worse in a period when the permanent of business by virtually any standard—economic, moral or social—has been getting better.

The present indictment is very different from that of the 1960s. In the 1960s, business was under attack and in serious trouble. Then, business seemed to have failed in its primary mission of providing products, producing goods and services.

Now, business is denounced for achievements that its critics of the 1960s decimated beyond its reach.

We face the worst of both worlds in that we have fallen in public esteem at a time when the public is demanding more and more of business in terms of its involvement in community and national affairs.

The declining faith in the business community is strongest among the young. The reputation of business for offering young people a chance to move ahead has dropped 33 percentage points since 1966—and this at the very time when business is a source of more and more jobs and affluence for young people than ever before.

We are the victims of a kind of reverse hypocrisy which affects even businessmen.

The man who loves his job may defer to convention and say he works only for money. It would be somewhat unpopular to admit he enjoys the work for itself or his colleagues—and he would never think of saying he loves his work. Men by what he does in industry.

According to current popular thought, "public service" can only refer to what one does after business hours, and should not be done for reward or profit.

Our problem has its roots in the fact that the American public actually knows very little about business or the free enterprise economy.

One of the mistakes we in business make is to assume that virtually everyone knows how prices are set, how wages relate to profits, how the market system operates. Most people don't know and, what's more, don't care.

Where would they have found out? From the schools they attended? In college? At church? From the newspapers or television?

Teachers, clergymen and journalists are for the most part as little interested in business as the rest of the public. It seems to me that this represents the beginning; these constituencies must be encouraged to undertake the difficult task of understanding and explaining our complex free enterprise economic system in terms of service.

The best interests of this community are served by having a healthy, viable business community—a community that needs dedicated, hard-working people as much as or more than the professions and social agencies.

The people who enter the business world with lofty ideals and practical dedication are the very people who make business with the type of leadership that will make it responsive to the needs of this country.

St. Louis University has no problems filling classrooms in the Schools of Law, Social Service, Nursing and Medicine. But classrooms are only about two-thirds full in the School of Business Administration, College of Arts and Sciences—the areas where business finds many of its recruits.

We live in the first large society in which most of the people are not at or under the poverty line. Some of them, however, have made their turn backs on the business and industrial system which created and affluence.

We forget that the service type of careers so popular today are ultimately dependent on the production of goods in our economy which actually generate money—such as agriculture, commerce and manufacturing.

Given the lack of understanding among professionals, businessmen and the people who influence public opinion, we should not be surprised at some of the public misperceptions about business.

For example, a national sampling shows the public's estimate of the after-tax profits of major corporations at 20 cents per dollar of sales. That same poll showed that the public estimates the return on sales for the top half of 41 major industries to be about 10 per cent. The fact that the actual return on sales has averaged only about four cents in recent years has nothing at all to do with the way people look at business. As far as the public as a whole is concerned, ten cents is fair and we are earning an unfair 28 cents—not our real four cents.

This similar misperception about business goes far to explain the increasing demands on business to pay higher taxes, increase wages and benefits, and provide environmental costs—all the while holding the line on prices.

"Profit" has become such a bad word that even businessmen are not trying to sell the wrong apple when we talk about the importance of profits.

Yet the much-attacked price, wage and profit system remains the best means yet devised for translating what the consumer wants into productive output.

Confronted with the energy crisis, the public fails to realize that the quest for profit is what can and should motivate our big oil companies to provide the additional oil and gas we need. Instead, we hear people asking what sort of a cut in profit will the companies be required to make, or demanding that they be cut down in size and merged with other individual companies, although such a step would be disastrous in the world competition for oil.

The consequences of this exaggerated notion of business profitability, it is no wonder that about one third of the public now believes the most practical way for workers to improve their standard of living is to get more of the money companies are making, rather than for workers to increase their productivity.

The consequences of this misperception become steadily more troublesome as business becomes more complex and more involved in questions about the tax structure and the environment.

With the public demanding the public demands price controls while letting the real forces which make for inflation—most of all, our

I FEEL LIKE I'VE BEEN KICKED IN THE BREADBASKET!

Copy News Service

enormous government spending—go unchecked.

Faced with shortages in many basic raw materials, the public tends to ignore one of the facts of economic life—that a continuous flow of profits is essential to the capital formation on which rising living standards and all welfare plans eventually depend.

Public mistrust makes it difficult for industry to persuade our government to adopt tax and trade policies that would enable it to meet present and future demands.

The steel industry is a good case in point. From 1962 through 1971, it invested $17 billion in new facilities. This sum exceeded the industry's total cash flow—reinvested in new plant and equipment during that decade by $2.8 billion, and the industry incurred $2.2 billion in new long-term debt.

This massive investment increased production capacity by 10 million tons annually, yet it marginally, most of it replaced worn-out and obsolete facilities with much more expensive, but more modern and efficient equipment.

During the same 1962-71 period, the steel industry's return on sales fell from the top half of 41 major industries to near the bottom of the list. This occurred mainly because of erosion of domestic steel markets by imports, large jumps in labor costs and steeply rising costs for raw materials, transportation and capital equipment.

Today, the steel industry can look ahead to a predictable demand for continued heavy capital investment simply to modernize facilities and add further environmental control equipment.

We also see the need to add 25 million to 30 million tons of new steelmaking capacity by 1980 to keep up with the increasing consumption of steel in this country.

This sounds great until you ask where the money to finance that sort of expansion is coming from. With a $6 billion debt, the domestic steel industry is not far from the point where it will run out of borrowing capacity.

We have very little chance to construct new steelmaking capacity to meet rising steel demand until we are allowed to charge adequate prices for our products to cover the added cost of materials purchased from a regulated supplier, and unless and until federal tax policies do a better job of promoting capital investment in new productive facilities.

At present, we are squeezed between soaring raw material, costs and the Cost-of-Living Council, which has our prices rigidly regulated.

As a result of an Oct. 1 price increase, we will have an overall increase in prices of 2.2 per cent in the last quarter of this year—and we look for another increase of about 2.0 per cent in January.

Compare those figures with what happened to some of our raw materials and fuels over the last year—prime grades of scrap have gone up from $44 a ton to $82; the quoted price of zinc from 17 cents a pound to as high as 57 in some areas; No. 6 fuel oil from 8½ cents a gallon a year ago to 14½ cents; coal prices up about 15 per cent; and natural gas up about 25 per cent.

Our chances of alleviating the cost-price squeeze are certainly not helped by public skepticism about corporate profits and public misunderstanding about the price, wage and profit system.

The amount of steel that will be produced in Granite City in future years and the number of jobs and payroll dollars which the production of steel will provide in Granite City are matters still very much up in the air.

The answers will depend in good part on how successful we are in increasing public understanding of the business system—public understanding here and throughout the U.S.

We have invested close to $14 million in air, water and solid waste pollution control at Granite City Steel in the last seven or eight years and we have in our budgets the prospects of another $15 million or $16 million for additional pollution control facilities.

It has helped make Granite City a cleaner, better place to live. We are not yet completely satisfied. We plan to do more.

But the thing to remember is that these improvements were made in the face of choice to an extent impossible in a socialist economy or in any planned economy which assumes that the planners know what the people want or should have. The basic postulate of free enterprise is that the consumer is king—not the producer and not the bureaucrat.

We must articulate these principles more effectively than we have in the past.

Here we can benefit from organizations like the Tri-Cities Chamber of Commerce. They provide a means through which business can speak and act with a unity of purpose. They provide a voice for smaller companies who realize it will take a tremendous effort for business to attain a higher level of public opinion and trust. But ask yourself what happens if we do not make that effort.

SIUE meeting energy crisis

Faculty and staff of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are being encouraged to form car pools to help meet the energy crisis.

Home address lists, broken down by zip codes, will be sent to 2,153 faculty and staff as an aid in formation of the pools, by the office of institutional research.

The mailing is one of several steps the University is taking to conserve energy, both on campus and in the SIUE community.

Each University employee, with the exception of student workers, will receive a list of all employees living in his or her zip code area through campus mail. The listing includes names, home and campus addresses and home and campus telephone numbers, to assist individuals in making car pool contacts.

At present, the University has no parking regulations designed specifically to encourage car pooling, but B. D. Hudgens, vice-president for business affairs, said the situation is being studied continually and that if car pools are formed voluntarily SIUE may be able to set aside specific pool car parking areas. "We will try to help car pool drivers in any way we can as the movement develops," Hudgens said.

Address lists are expected to be mailed early next week, Reiner said.

The mailings will include 771 to Edwardsville residents and 346 to Missouri residents. Other areas include: Alhambra 5, Alton 153, Belleville 53, Bellerose 4, Bethalto 36, Brighton 4, Bunker Hill 15, Cahokia 8, Caseyville 10, Collinsville 108, Cottage Hills 9, Dorsey 2, Dow 2, East Alton 78, East St. Louis 83, Elmhurst 4, Fairview Heights 11, Gillespie 4, Glen Carbon 34, Godfrey 49, Granite City 69, Greenville 2, Hamel 3, Hartford 15, Highland 21, Jerseyville 6, Lebanon 2, Litchfield 3, Madison 6, Marine 21, Mount Olive 6, Moro 4.

City bonds to finance sewage treatment plant

A $400,000 general obligation bond issue to finance immediate costs of Granite City's new secondary sewage treatment plant was approved on final passage by the City Council last week.

The bond issue is not expected to be sold in full, but used only to the extent necessary to pay immediately due bills of the G. L. Tarlton Contracting Co. which is now building the treatment plant on the Granite City Army Installation grounds. The plan is expected to save the city considerable money by meeting construction costs and thereby preventing a shutdown of the project until the city receives the proceeds of its $4.1 million revenue bond issue approved several weeks ago. Money from that issue is not expected until later this month.

The $400,000 bond issue approved at the meeting was authorized to be sold in four bonds of $100,000 each at 5½ per cent interest. The bonds would be sold in a negotiated sale. The city had been financing advance construction costs out of the regular pollution plant fund, but that fund has too small a balance to continue this practice, officials said.

Mayor Paul Schuler said after the meeting that he expects only about half of the issue to be sold to pay off approximately $176,000 in the contractor's claims. Any part of the issue sold to meet construction costs in the immediate future will be repaid from the larger treatment plant issue, Schuler said.

Council members also approved unanimously a resolution officially putting the city on record as opposed to a move to abolish the present

East Side Levee and Sanitary District and to administer levee maintenance functions through a new body created by mayors of cities within the district and county officials of Madison and St. Clair County.

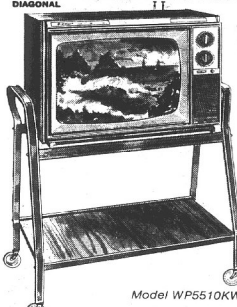

The resolution was adopted at the urging of Alderman Sam Whitmer who said Granite City would approve "nothing short of" a division of the levee district on the county line which would give the Quad-City area "its own levee district operated by its own elected officials," while St. Clair County operated a separate district.

An ordinance recognizing Teamsters Union Local 325 as the authorized bargaining agent of employees of the Granite City Humane Shelter was placed on first reading after first being referred to the finance and negotiating committees for study.

Alderman Roy Poulos, chairman of the ordinance committee, at first moved to suspend the rules and place the bill on final passage. Several aldermen objected, maintaining the ordinance first should have cleared through the negotiating committee and the finance committee.

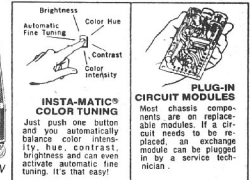

Alderman Walter Nann amended the original passage motion to refer the ordinance to the two committees. Poulos withdrew the suspension of rules motion and placed the bill on first reading after Nann's amendment was approved.

Do's & Don'ts for Gas Cooking

These tips will save you money

DO use less water in cooking vegetables.

You'll get more food value and use less gas.

DO keep range burners and pilot light clean.

But don't use lye or strong chemicals on aluminum parts.

DO use a LOW temperature setting for roasting.

This reduces meat shrinkage and saves gas.

DON'T waste heat.

Before turning a burner on, set your pan on the range. Turn the flame to LOW when food starts to cook. Turn the burner OFF immediately when finished.

Use a small burner when cooking with a small pan. Don't let flame lick up outside of any pan.

DON'T cover your oven racks with aluminum foil.

If you cover the bottom of the oven, don't cover the holes. This blocks air circulation to the oven burners.

DON'T open the oven door unnecessarily.

You lose heat every time you do.

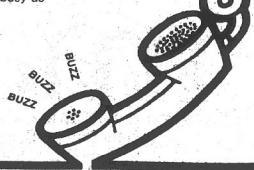

Providing energy is our business. Using it wisely is everybody's business.

Hubers review Tahitian travels

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Huber reviewed their travels to the Society Islands in the South Pacific at a meeting last week of Travelers Abroad at Frasier Junior High School.

The archipelago was named by the English sea captain, James Cook, in 1769 in honor of the Royal Society at whose instigation his expedition had been organized, the couple said.

The Hubers' visit centered on Tahiti, Moorea and Borabora. Their colored films vividly demonstrated the volcanic origin of the islands; the black mountains with the peaks lost in the clouds and the somber beaches of black sand.

The level areas of Tahiti are luxuriant with flowers in many hues and ferns, palms, coconut and bread fruit trees.

"When Tahiti was discovered in 1666," Mrs. Huber said, "the natives were practicing cannibalism and human sacrifice, grisly reminders of which are still shown to tourists. The Tahitian women were strikingly beautiful, and soon the islands became a paradise for explorers and merchant seamen from many parts of Europe."

"Tahiti, only 402 square miles in dimension, was explored by Samuel Wallis, Louis Bougainville, Captain James Cook and the infamous William Bligh, commander of the Bounty, who men mutinied and set him adrift in a small boat, an incident made famous in story and song for over 300 years," the speakers said.

Using a series of well marked maps, Huber pointed out a surprising fact—although the South Pacific region contains countless islands, no land whatsoever is visible to the passengers during the long flight from Los Angeles to Tahiti. The entire air journey is made across open sea, he said.

The Granite City residents displayed for club members numerous native fabrics, as well as art objects made of coral, mother of pearl and teak wood.

Watson-Green wedding at Pontoon Baptist Church

The wedding of Miss Robyn Green, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Green, 2448 Pine St., and Everett Watson, son of Mrs. Dorothy Watson, 2360 Paul St., took place at 2:30 p.m. Nov. 16 at the Pontoon Baptist Church.

Officiating at the service was the Rev. Gus Falter Jr. A reception for 175 guests was held in the church recreation hall following the ceremony.

Mrs. Carol Pickens sang "A Moment of Your Love" and "I Love You Truly." She was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Maxine Green, mother of the bride.

For her wedding, the former Miss Green chose a gown created of chiffon over taffeta designed with a re-embroidered lace bodice featuring a high neckline and long sheer sleeves.

Her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion was edged in narrow lace braid and she held a bouquet of orchids.

Mrs. Kathy Green, a sister-in-law of the bride, was matron of honor and Mary McKee was the bridesmaid.

They wore identical gowns of polyester crepe in mint green and pale yellow complemented with matching picture hats.

Their Empire style dresses were full length with lace bodices and they carried bouquets of carnations.

Serving as best man was Thomas Green, a brother of the bride. The groomsmen was Larry McKee.

Misses Patricia Lathrop and Paula Krieschok served as candlelighters and ushers. They were attired in orchid and turquoise frocks.

Mrs. Green, mother of the bride, chose a turquoise taffeta dress made with a chiffon skirt. The groom's mother selected a floral gown in yellow. Both wore orchid corsages.

The newlyweds attended Granite City schools and are residing at the Gaslight Walk Apartments. The bridegroom is employed by the Olive Elec-

Frohardt pupils aiding UNICEF

A unique method of providing cash contributions to the United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) has been adopted by the fourth grade language arts class of Mrs. Sidney Massie at Frohardt Grade School.

For the past two months, the fourth grade pupils have been urging other students at the school to bring labels of certain products to add to their collection.

Each classroom has been visited by the youthful sponsors, who displayed posters to encourage other youngsters to help in the project.

Participating companies have agreed to contribute cash to UNICEF in exchange for the labels as part of a "Treat to Life" program. The project provides assistance to needy children around the world.

The Frohardt sponsors recently sorted a total of 1,025 labels with a cash value of $8.34. Labels being sought in the program are Blue Bonnet Margarine, Chock's Vitamins, Dentyne and Trident Chewing Gum, Kool-Aid, Royal Dessert and Welch's Jams and Jellies.

Cash donations from the product manufacturers will be added to the UNICEF fund which furnishes food supplements, antibiotic medicines and dry milk to underprivileged children.

North Band debut Tuesday

Formal gowns and new band uniforms will be worn by members of the Granite City High School North Concert Band at their debut performance Tuesday evening in the new auditorium at Granite City High School South.

The 8 o'clock concert will feature a variety of music ranging from serious works to contemporary sounds, according to Robert D. Todoroff, band director.

A special one hour presentation will be devoted to the composition—"Psalm 46," based upon the Choral Medley "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," by Zdechlik.

Other selections will include: "Incantation and Dance" by John Barnes Chance; "Divertimento For Band" by Vincent Persichetti; "Mazurk" by Emmanuel Chabrier; "Romeo and Juliet Theme" by Tschaikowsky; "Latin Elegy" by Rhoads; and "Christmas Music for Winds" arranged by John Cacavas.

In contrast to the more serious music, the band will perform "Sounds of the Three Dog Night" arranged by Robert Lowden.

The pop segment will feature principal percussionist David Krohne on the drums and bassist Ruth Fisher on the electric bass.

Due to the critical shortage of paper, the usual programs will not be printed for concert patrons, Todoroff advised.

Instead, members of the band's pom squad of young women, attired in formal dresses, will act as moderators during the performance, announcing to the audience the selections to be presented, the band director said.

North band students currently are selling season tickets at a cost of $2.50 for admission of two adults at each of the four concerts. The remaining performances will be presented on Feb. 5, March 12 and April 2.

At the band's February appearance in the North High School cafeteria, a "Pop and Pretzel Night" is planned, Todoroff said. Soda and pretzels served by the Steelerette pom girls to patrons at nominal cost will be featured, while a program of popular music is performed.

Both the March and April concerts will be staged in the South High auditorium. All four concerts in the 1973-74 season are Tuesday evening presentations, Todoroff said.

Individual admission without a season ticket will cost 75 cents for adults and 35 cents for students.

BETROTHED. Miss Bridgett Thurman, whose engagement to Gerald Ashford is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Winfred Abbott, 3 Lily Court. A March wedding is planned.

Ashford-Thurman engagement

Miss Thurman is employed by Chromalloy, Inc. in St. Louis. Her fiancé is working at the Standard Oil service station in Mitchell.

Plans are being completed by the engaged couple for a March wedding.

conduct pledge training meetings with Mrs. Martha Dyer, it was announced.

Arrangements were completed for the chapter's Christmas dinner party on Dec. 14. Members will meet initially at the home of Mrs. Laule prior to dinner at the Top of the Towers Restaurant in St. Louis County. Later, they will return to Mrs. Ruth Stoyanoff's residence for open house.

Mrs. Rains appointed Linda Koenig to serve as chairman of preception and progression with the City Council. Mrs. Druhe received a travel basket and a photo album was awarded to Lora M. Lombardi.

Also at the meeting were Bea Brackett, Dolores Byrnes, Evelyn Tolliver, Ruth Stoyanoff, Pat Tsigalaroff and Delores Dorich.

Mrs. Vernice Wortman, president, presided at the business meeting. She reported that installation of new officers will be held Jan. 9 at the Tri Mor Bowl, with Harold Wyatt of Collinsville, assistant state director of the Retired Persons group, serving as the installing officer.

Officers to serve in 1974 are Mrs. Wortman, president; Charles Kelly, vice-president; Mrs. Vina Law, secretary; and Mrs. Clara Schillinger, treasurer. Ten directors also comprise an executive board.

Donations were authorized to Specialized Services and Save the Children Federation by Amvets Auxiliary Unit 51 at a meeting last week at Amvets Post Home, 5100 Lakeview Drive.

Mrs. Charlotte Damal, president, was in charge and members voted to purchase school supplies for boys at the Peaceful Valley Youth Ranch as part of the unit's Christmas charitable program.

Guests may be invited to the annual Yuletide party Dec. 22, it was decided. However, a $3 per couple charge will be required for guests. Members were asked to bring a $5 gift to exchange, Mrs. Damal said.

Plans were made to sell memo-planner books at $1 each to aid the auxiliary welfare fund and Mrs. Melba Manning and Mrs. Mickey Copen were appointed to serve as hostesses in January. Reports were given by Mrs. Jean Murphy, treasurer, Mrs. Glenda Brockman, secretary and Mrs. Etta Clements, membership chairman.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Damal and Mrs. Murphy. Mrs. Clements was awarded a white elephant gift.

64th installation of Granite Chapter

Mrs. Betty McClintock and Harry McClintock were installed as worthy matron and worthy patron, respectively, of Granite Chapter 660, Order of Eastern Star, in public ceremonies at the Masonic Temple. The occasion marked the 64th installation of chapter officers.

Others installed for 1974 were:

Betty Ebrecht and Robert Ebrecht, associate matron and associate patron; Mary Bilbrey, secretary; Elaine Fox, treasurer; Dorothy Brokaw, conductress; Maxine Compton, associate conductress; Edith Smith, chaplain; Betty Girtz, marshal; Hulda Griffith, organist; Dona Boyer, Adah; Pauline Cox, Ruth; Mary Petrosian, Esther; Rosamond Johnson, Martha; Donna Kagy, Electra; Dorothy Helton, warder; Annabelle Barling, sentinel; John Boyer, color bearer and Hazel Wood, instructress.

Preceding the ceremonies candles were lighted by Lea Ann Baker and Rhonda Kay Baker and LaVerne Larsen, soloist, sang "My Task."

The retiring worthy matron and worthy patron, Rachel Larsen and Walter Johnson, welcomed members and guests. They introduced Jane Haeman, associate grand conductress of Illinois, and several past matrons and past conductresses.

Installing officers were Louise Meador, Mary Bilbrey, Cora Hetlich and Lois Northcutt, who were escorted by Cleveland Cox, Earl French and John Dellart. Serving as color bearer was John Boyer and the ode to the flag was given by Brinley Bodman, past patron of Granite Chapter.

As Mrs. McClintock was escorted to the altar, a living cross was formed by members of Bethel 43, Order of Job's Daughters, and LaVerne Larsen sang, "If You Believe."

The new worthy matron was presented with a bouquet of roses by her grandsons, Steven and James Julian McClintock, and her husband similarly was honored with a gift from their grandson, James, as Larsen sang "I'll Walk with God."

Presentations were made to Mrs. Larsen and Johnson, the chapter's immediate past executives, by their families.

The nine o'clock interpolation was given by members of Edith Stuart Chapter, Order of DeMolay.

Immediately following the ceremonies, a reception honoring the new officers was held in the Temple dining room. The officers' table was centered with a five-color star and a bouquet of red roses flanked with wrought iron candleholders and tapers, representing the colors of the order.

Individual guest tables were covered with blue cloths and decorated with blue and silver crowns and red roses.

Judith McClintock, a member of Melrose Chapter of Vandalia, and Mrs. Nannie Meadows, a past matron of Granite Chapter, served at the reception table.

Programs were distributed by Mrs. Ida Cariss and Mrs. Bess Henley. Mrs. Hannah Kleinschmidt presided at the guest book.

Elizabeth Wisnick was chairman of the refreshment committee and Leigh Maxeimer supervised the group responsible for the decorations.

Circle members met in the home of Mrs. Clara Soltriff, 2924 Pershing Ave., and were served a noon luncheon. The lesson was based on "The Shepherds Care—The 23rd Psalm," an article written by Dr. Billy Graham and given by Mrs. Soltriff.

Meet on secondary treatment

Two representatives of the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency regional office in Chicago will be here Wednesday to meet with local city officials and industrial representatives concerning the proposed Granite City secondary sewage plant and its cost.

Arwin Holman and Ted Horn of Chicago are expected to be on hand for the closed meeting at 1 p.m. Wednesday in the board room of the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce.

At previous Chamber committee meetings on the subject, industrial treatment plant users have expressed concern that their share of the cost of the proposed secondary treatment plant would be prohibitive and would force them to construct their own treatment facilities, thus causing the homeowner to bear an even greater portion of the cost.

Crime in state rising even before reduction of lighting

When the lights go out to conserve energy, can the rate of robberies be far behind? In fact, the rate of robberies in Illinois is on the upswing, notwithstanding the lighting factor.

During the first six months of 1973, robberies have increased 2.6 per cent over the same time period last year, according to the Department of Law Enforcement's first semi-annual crime statistics report. This involves an increase of 389 violations over the 1972 figure.

However, except for robbery, all other crimes against persons declined for the same period over 1972, according to Harvey N. Johnson Jr., director of the department.

This new statistics report represents the first time all figures included in a crime report represent Illinois solely.

"The real value of this document is that for the first time all figures are Illinois-based," Johnson said. "It is a complete report from all law enforcement agencies in the state. Also, it does not rely on data already being reported to the FBI by police agencies."

Data for the state report is submitted from each of the 960 police jurisdictions in the state. Previously, less than half of these jurisdictions reported figures for the FBI's publication, "Crime in the U.S."

With mandatory compliance required, the Illinois Law Enforcement Department now submits a complete statewide picture to the FBI.

The report also indicated that a 64.3 per cent increase in murder and voluntary manslaughter was recorded during the first half of this year. A total of 862 violations in this category compares with 542 during the same period last year.

However, forcible rape dropped by 61 offenses while aggravated assault and battery dropped by 1,914 offenses.

TWO INJURED

Two persons were injured when the autos of Barry Pouncil, East St. Louis, and Frederick M. Coley, Brooklyn, collided near the Venice, Lincoln Technical School on 4th Street at 8 a.m. Saturday. Pouncil, 21, complained of back pains and Coley, 25, received a cut on his left hand.

THEFT FROM STORE

Burglars broke into Stanley's Grocery store, 1236 Oriole St., Venice, Friday night, and stole $100 in change and $50 in food stamps from the cash register. Entry was gained by prying open the back door.

TRUCK, TOOLS STOLEN

The truck of Wilson Hundley, 2105 Elm Ave., was stolen from his home. Hundley reported one of the boys hiding inside. The truck contained a large quantity of tools, he said.

Crimes against property increased 8.8 per cent. Out of this number, there was a 20.1 per cent increase in burglary, 3.3 per cent increase in theft and 11.6 per cent increase in auto theft.

The Crime Index total registered 13,889 offenses, a rise of 6.7 per cent. This means that for every 100,000 persons, there were 13,889 crimes against both persons and property.

Information pertaining to crime categories, incidence of criminal activity and its victims also is included in this new semi-annual law enforcement report.

BOYS APPREHENDED

Two juvenile brothers, 15 and 16, were apprehended by police at 11 p.m. Thursday after officers discovered a rear door at Andy's ARCO service station, 23rd and Madison Avenue, had been broken open. Police found one of the boys hiding inside. The other youth was apprehended at home a short time later. It is unknown if anything was taken.
